Washington State History Museum

Tacoma

$0 - $50

SuperFolk is a comprehensive showcase of all the folk art elements. Designed to demonstrate the brilliance, depth, and breadth of folk arts, SuperFolk transcends its vast multi-generational evolution and synthesizes these elements into a weekend of multidisciplinary and inter-cultural artforms that connect traditions of the past, present, and future!

SuperFolk is collaboration and evolution combined. It's sharing and borrowing new and old ideas. SuperFolk tests our boundaries for genre and classification, giving us permission to slide in between and betwixt dimensions that have been too often demarcated into tiny boxes. Within the realm of SuperFolk, all ingredients are good ingredients and can belong together in various interpretations and tapestries.

SuperFolk also represents a larger strategy to redefine an arts & culture ecosystem that pushes the needle forward to uplift artists through ethical pay, cross-discipline thought partnership, transformational education settings and pathways, and Activism through coalition and movement building. Simply put, SuperFolk empowers our creative ecosystem to envision a brighter and thriving future for our artists, our communities, and our common humanity!

Friday Night SuperFolk Market 6:00 PM – 10:00 PM

Join Northwest FolkLife at the Tacoma Arts Live Roosevelt Room on Friday night for a night market and jam. You can shop locally and choose from a selection of incredible craft artists from Tacoma. If you're a musician, don't forget to bring your instrument and join the SuperFolk musicians for a jam session. This free event will kickstart the weekend's festivities at the Washington State History Museum.

Saturday Gallery Walk 11:00 AM – 4:00 PM

On Saturday from 11:00 AM to 4:00 PM, visit the Washington State History Museum and tour the main floor exhibits while our SuperFolk musicians perform within various galleries to punctuate themes explored in each exhibit.

Saturday Night Social. 6:00 PM – 10:00 PM

Join us on Saturday night on the 5th floor of the Washington State History Museum from 6:00 to 10:00 PM. Enjoy live music from SuperFolk musicians, local crafters, food vendors, and performing artists at the 2nd installation of Northwest FolkLife's SuperFolk Party.

Belltown will be throbbing a bit more intensely March 2-3, as the Freakout Weekender takes over the Crocodile complex and Belltown Yacht Club with a compressed version of Freakout's annual autumn festival, featuring its usual heavy Latin American representation and excessive fun. Derv Gordon, lead singer from legendary '60s/'70s UK soul-rock group the Equals (the Clash covered their awesome "Police on My Back"), is a must-see, sure to tear through a classics-laden set while backed by skillful acolytes. Mexican duo Sgt. Papers make punk sound vital and fun—a rare feat in 2024. Ty Segall's high-energy trio FUZZ keep their rugged rock in the red while swaggering tunefully, like T. Rex on 'roids. Newish Seattle triple-guitar threat the Valley Suns forge nuanced, transportive psychedelia. Chicago's Dehd ply psych-pop that's aflutter with beguiling melodies. Boogarins satisfy cravings for sweet and juicy Brazilian psych-rock. Et freakin' cetera. With over 30 acts, the Weekender offers a surplus of thrills that will test your time-management skills. Billy Joe Huels, star of the 5th Avenue Theatre's production of 'Buddy', brings Buddy Holly and his friends, Richie Valens and the Big Bopper back for one night only at the Triple Door.

In 1959, rockabilly icon Buddy Holly died in a tragic plane crash. He left behind his pregnant wife, several unfinished projects, and millions of fans. The musician with the black-framed glasses and innovative tunes inspired greats like Bob Dylan, The Rolling Stones, and The Beatles. And as most people know, his death is the inspiration behind Don McLean's "American Pie."

Over the years the Canadian trio Black Tiger Sex Machine have established themselves as top key figures in the bass music scene. Along with their music BTSM push the boundaries of what a live show can be, implementing an extremely immersive experience where visuals, lights, music and their signature Tiger Helmets are all controlled live by them. Their grassroots approach has fostered an extraordinarily faithful fan base called the BTSM Church.

BTSM are world-traveling artists having played hundreds of international shows across the US, Canada, Asia, Europe and Africa, as well as major festivals including Lollapalooza Chicago and Paris, EDC Las Vegas, Shambhala, Electric Forest, Osheaga, TomorrowWorld and more. Their most recent headline tour saw the trio sellout numerous venues across North America including Hollywood's Palladium, Denver's Mission Ballroom and Saltair in SLC. This Futuristic Thriller Tour debuted BTSM's Movie Experience, which wove live action cinema and storytelling into their show.

Welcome To Our Church was BTSM's 2015 debut album, which was hailed by the Huffington Post as "One of the best electronic albums of the year," while the follow-up New Worlds in 2018 debuted at #6 on the Billboard Dance charts. Most recently the group's biggest EP to date, Futuristic Thriller, has helped push the trio to over 100 million streams worldwide.

BTSM also manage Kannibalen Records, which has quickly become one of the top independent labels in dance music. Through Kannibalen, they've shaped the careers of breakthrough artists like Apashe, Kai Wachi, Dabin, and more. Kannibalen Records has been recognized worldwide through major publication partnerships with Apple, Budweiser, adidas, T-Mobile, PS5, Fifa 2021, Netflix, Marvel, NBA, HBO, MTV, UFC, and more.

AYLA NEREO: aylanereo.com

"Ayla Nereo is a singer, composer, producer, dancer, and visual-poetry creator from the mountains of eastern California. Grown in forests and rivers, she is a bridge of the timeless and modern, weaving poetry and sound into a magical and emotional world of sonic beauty.

With a particular joy for bridging musical styles, Ayla's songs seem a genre unto their own, as she moves between vocal looping, produced beats, live drumming, orchestral string arrangements, Celtic melodies, disco rhythms, electronic soundscapes, and even dashes of hip-hop wordplay. Lyrical meditations and riddles of language dance into wondrous tapestries of sound and story, from electronic folk ballads to celtic melodies and elvin loop-pedal mantras.

Having an uncanny ability to crack open the heart, Ayla's songs are an ode to the wonder of being human, inviting us deeper into the exquisite and innately psychedelic dream of this moment."

LŪKA www.lukamusik.com

"LŪKA writes songs of, and for, healing. Music that both feels rooted in the natural world, as well as shimmers with blips of the technological. This balance and contrast creates a sonic environment that is both nostalgic and forward looking, worn in and brand new. With moments that feel intimate and contained and moments that feel like they're waiting on the collective for active participation."

BROTHA JAG: soundcloud.com

"Brotha Jag (aka Isaac Williams) creates an immersive sonic experience that guides us both deeper into our heart and also wider into a connected and powerfully unified group. His sets include an insatiable array of sounds and genres, from afro-house to disco, French house to funk, remixed oldies & classics to new original productions and collaborations, and much more. The following description comes from the event organizer.

We return back for our March installment of CARAVAN with a wonderful lineup of Artists!

What will you hear at a CARAVAN night? This show is an open-format show where each DJ can play any genre of music they'd like. There's only one rule: they must incorporate instruments, languages, and sounds from around the world throughout their set. This creates the feeling of traveling through the world together as one caravan of people.

Check out past Caravan sets/mixes here:

<https://soundcloud.com/thesilkroad/sets/caravan-sets?si=d9ca55a81f4a46eebc1dd304681a5504>

CARAVAN is inspired by the true-life historic Silk Road that wound its way through Europe, Asia, and Africa. Along this route, there was a mingling of cultures and backgrounds that provided a platform for them to interact, come together, and contribute to a newly created global market. We have the same vision to create a global connection, this time through music.

World music is genre-fluid & promotes inclusivity, accessibility, and overall respect for one another. You don't need to know the instruments or the language to understand its meaning and appreciate its beauty. This appreciation sparks cultural curiosity and investigation. It's a concept that brings us all together, and it's a dream we want everyone to feel included in. So, who's ready to hop on the CARAVAN with us?

The Body of Our Poetry is a 4-week poetry class with writing prompts, discussion sessions, and time to share work.

FULL DESCRIPTION

The Body of Our Poetry is a 4-week poetry class with writing prompts, discussion sessions, and time to share work. This class is valuable to writers of all forms of creative writing (not just poetry). Each week, we'll focus on a new topic:

- (1) Foundations: The Elements of Poetry
- (2) A Deeper Dive: Poetic Terminology
- (3) Say It Different: Developing Your Poetic Voice

(4) Editing Is Your Friend: Getting To The Meat of it All

FOUNDATIONS: THE ELEMENTS OF POETRY

In this first session, we'll learn how poetry is a body of creative expression made up of certain elements. We'll explore these basic elements at length through figurative language, repetition, rhythm & rhyme, lines, stanzas, and lineation. We'll then see these elements in action through reading one of Dr. Maya Angelou's most famous poems "Still I Rise." We'll deepen the learning of figurative language by engaging the senses through a writing prompt.

Mark Hilliard Wilson, classical guitar

Are you interested to learn how different genres of music influence each other? Can you recognize Chopin's melody in the bossa nova hit "How Insensitive" performed by Frank Sinatra and Sting? Are you curious to hear jazz variations on the themes of folk songs?

Join us for this listen-and-guess performance of works by George Gershwin, Frederic Chopin, Antonio Carlos Jobim, Myroslav Skoryk among others. The program includes jazz standards, works of pre-jazz era composers with a huge impact on jazz genre, classical music influenced by jazz, and our own variations on the themes of Ukrainian and Polish folk songs. Together in one concert we will explore different dialects of the unifying language of music that brings together cultures and people.

EMMA BURGE

Violinist Emma Burge is an avid supporter of contemporary and new music, seeking to combine her classical training with improvisation. Emma is a founder of the new music ensemble Alinéa, formed at the New England Conservatory. She has premiered thirty new chamber works in the past two years, including Arturo O'Farril's Tiny Little Walls. She also recently recorded with artist Heather Maloney on her newest album, Soil in the Sky. In Boston, Emma was a member of the Phoenix Chamber Orchestra, Fermata, the Boston Philharmonic Orchestra, and the Coda Ensemble.

CASSIO VIANNA

Cassio Vianna is the Director of Jazz Studies at Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, WA. A native of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Dr. Vianna is a pianist, music educator, and an award-winning composer. He has been featured as a lecturer, adjudicator, and performer at festivals and conferences across the U.S., Latin America, and in China; his compositions and arrangements for jazz ensemble have received national recognition, including awards from the National Band Association, Jazz Education Network, Ithaca College Jazz Composition Competition, and the International Society of Jazz Arrangers and Composers (ISJAC). Dr. Vianna holds a Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Rio de Janeiro, a Master of Music degree from Western Oregon University, and a Doctor of Arts degree in Jazz Studies from the University of Northern Colorado. His most recent album, Infância (Cassio Vianna Jazz Orchestra, 2017), features his recent original compositions for jazz big band.

MARK HILLIARD WILSON

Mark Hilliard Wilson has an engaging approach to teaching and programming concerts that draws from the deep well of history and a desire to relate contemporary interests to universal themes. Born in Palo Alto, California in 1965 his childhood was spent moving every two years from Minnesota to Holland, to Washington DC to Payette, Idaho before his parents finally found their slice of heaven in Boise, Idaho. Mark continued to travel to Bellingham, Rochester and visit other countries before finding his base in Seattle in 1995. He founded the Seattle Guitar Orchestra in 2000 and became the cathedral guitarist at St. James Cathedral in Seattle 2006. He has taught at Whatcom Community College, Bellevue College, the Rosewood Guitar and is currently at the Holy Names Academy, his compositions are published by Seconda Prattica and performed widely. Recently Wilson premiered a concerto written for him by the Ukrainian composer Oleg Boyko. Wilson will be directing Guitar ensembles in the premier of a work he commissioned from Boyko at the 2023 Northwest Guitar Festival in Bellingham, Wa. 2023 will see the release of The Music of Taiwo Adegoke, Changing the canon of the classical guitar with music from Nigeria. Music for Seattle Guitar Orchestra and cello and classical guitar featuring cellist Abbie Eads. You can find these on all platforms and videos too on Mark's Patreon site.

Master of Irish Traditional Fiddle, Gerry O' Connor In Concert

Phinney Center

$10 - $24

Sat, Mar 2

7:30pm - 10:00pm

Gerry O' Connor, master of Irish traditional fiddle, returns in concert for the Seattle Folklore Society

FULL DESCRIPTION

The Seattle Folklore Society is pleased to present master traditional Irish fiddler Gerry O' Connor at the Phinney center, March 2nd, 7:30pm. Gerry is from Dundalk, Co. Louth, where he grew up in a family of musicians, dancers and singers, all taught at home by his mother, Rose. From an early age Gerry was involved Irish music, winning numerous All Ireland awards in a range of duets, trios and céilí band titles. Gerry's style is the fluid, lyrical fiddle-playing of the great Sligo masters, and his love for the music shows in his obvious delight in playing.

Gerry has played and recorded with Lá Lúgh and Skylark, recording four CDs on the Claddagh label. He has toured and recorded with members of all the legendary traditional music ensembles, including Planxty, Bothy Band, De Danann, Boys of the Lough, and The Chieftains. Lá Lugh's album Brigid's Kiss was voted Album of the Year in 1996 by readers of Irish Music magazine, and Gerry's solo CD Journeyman was rated in the top five Albums of 2004 by The Irish Times. This critically acclaimed recording was heralded as a milestone in the recorded music of the Oriel region of South Ulster.

In 2018 Gerry was awarded "Ceannródaí", the prestigious Bardic Award by Comhaltas for his valued contribution to the Traditional Arts. In the same year he launched his second solo album "Last Nights Joy" and published "The Rose in the Gap" Dance Music for Oriel, where he lives, from the Donnellan Collection, which had not been heard or performed for a hundred years or so.

A four times winner of The Fiddler of Oriel competition, Gerry now adjudicates it, and teaches fiddle at the Willie Clancy Summer School and at master-classes throughout Europe. He has just lately performed at the Irish Embassy in Egypt, as a featured performer in Sweden, and for the Zingaro Equine theater show in Paris.

Accompanying Gerry will be guitarist Don Penzien, who has worked with Gailfean, Haley Richardson, and Kevin Doyle, among others.

Andrew Sleighter performed on Last Comic Standing, recorded a comedy special for Dry Bar and made his late-night stand-up debut on Conan. He's also written and performed sketch comedy for Comedy Central and wrote and blogged for the Sports Show with Norm Macdonald on Comedy Central. Most recently Andrew appeared on the Late Late Show with James Corden.

A regular at colleges and comedy clubs across the country, Andrew's also performed at some of the most prestigious comedy festivals in and out of the country including Bumbershoot, Bridgetown, Gilda's Laugh Fest, The Aspen Comedy Festival, Laughing Skull, and the Johnny Carson Great American Comedy Festival.

Bo Johnson is a comedian from Seattle, Washington. He can be found headlining clubs, breweries, and appropriately sized theaters across the United States and Canada. His stand up has been featured on Netflix is a Joke Radio, season two of Kevin Hart Presents: Hart of the City on Comedy Central, Don't Tell Comedy Secret Sets, & LOL Live! at the prestigious Just For Laughs comedy festival in Montreal. He was a finalist in the 39th annual Seattle International Comedy Competition and is a regular at festivals including Bumbershoot, SF Sketchfest, the Double Down Comedy Experience sponsored by Zappos, Life is Beautiful in Las Vegas, Rifflandia in Victoria BC, Prizefest, and Big Pine Comedy Festival in Phoenix. With a growing online audience Bo's jokes have been viewed millions of times online.

Separate from stand up comedy one time Bo and his best friend from high school snuck into a movie theater as one person. That video was broadcast on TV shows like the now cancelled Caught on Camera with Nick Cannon on NBC and lowest rated daytime talk show at the time, The Meredith Vieira Show. Bo still gets messages each year from friends seeing the video go viral on different meme accounts. Numerous magazines and newspapers also wrote about the hijinks, including an article in Cosmopolitan titled, "Man Sneaks His BFF Into Movie Theater by Stuffing Him Into His Pants." More recently Bo trained his roommates dog by walking her to Shania Twain's "Man! About Event

Come ready to learn how to build AI Agents AND work with a team to build an AI Agent App! We'll start with a hands-on tutorial, so come ready to code! Bring your laptop!

You will need to have:

A recent version of Python (I use 3.12)

A vague idea of what an LLM is

An enjoyment of building things with code

You will get:

A hands-on, practical training to learn how to build AI

Pizza, the classic lunch fuel for hackathons

A snack in the afternoon that may or may not be bubble tea

You will have roughly 6 hours to make:

A public GitHub repo containing your project code

A presentation that you will get to give in front of the whole class (I mean group of hackers) and some Venture Capital judges

New friends :)

Here's the itinerary. Please arrive by 9:15am!

9:00am - Arrive and Welcome

9:15am - Tutorial

9:45am - Team Formation

10:00am - Hack!

12:00pm - Lunch Break

3:59pm - Submit your projects

4:00pm - Pitching and Snacks

5:00pm - Judging - this time joined by Sophia Lu, VP at Tola Capital, and Don Sheu, co-founder at Apertu Capital.

5:30pm - Award Ceremony

6:00pm - Bye bye!

Sponsored by Microsoft, Zilliz, and LlamaIndex

About the Sponsors

Zilliz is the company behind the highly scalable, popular, and flexible vector database Milvus. The focus of Milvus is to provide developers a robust, purpose-built database to handle unstructured data. There is an estimated 4x as much unstructured data than structured data. This fact, along with a customer request for 5T vectors in 2021, led us to tackle the hard problem of scale. Zilliz was founded in 2017 and most recently raised a $113M series B.

LlamaIndex is an open source project that provides libraries to connect LLMs to your data, in Python and TypeScript. Use one of hundreds of data loaders to connect to any data source you can think of, store in any of dozens of vector stores, and query over dozens of possible LLMs including multi-modal and local models.

About the Judges

Don Sheu is co-founder of Apertu Capital. Apertu Capital is an early stage venture capital fund investing in founders of deeptech companies. The investment focus is on devtools, products for AI, cloud, solutions that enhance productivity of developers and data professionals. Apertu Capital invested in Anaconda, the OS for AI with over 40M users. Don is a Python Software Foundation Fellow as of 2017.

Sophia Lu is a Vice President at Tola Capital, an early-stage venture capital firm investing in enterprise software and AI. Before joining Tola, she played a critical role in driving the strategy and direction of Microsoft's Cloud and AI businesses and led digital transformation efforts at McKinsey.

Tola Capital partners with innovative and forward-looking founders reshaping the enterprise software landscape, some of our investment focuses include AI/ML Tooling, AI-native SaaS Applications, AI Compliance and Governance, AI Security tools, and Computer Vision. We have been investing globally since 2010 and are currently investing out of our $230M Fund III.
